Born speakers said a great deal about nothing and left unsaid everything pertaining to the real issues of the present campaign.—From Re-ister's Comments on Athinon's and Raum's epectals, Well, if the speeches were so Tarmlezs as all that, why do you devote a column and a half of your valuable (?) editorial space to comments upon them? Worthless things do not deserve so much attention, do they? Governor Hill and "Czar Reed."

So Governor Hill has heard the cry from Macedonia and is coming into West Virginia to help create some en thusiasm among the Democracy. To those who are posted it will occur that all the other Democratic orators, as well as the Democratic newspapers, will be placed in rather an awkward position before Governor Hill. They have been howling themselves hoarse from one end of the State to the other over what they are pleased to call the infamous, arbitrary and revolutionary acts of Speaker Reed in his famous "quorum decisions." They have denounced them in their platforms, in their speeches and through their papers until Speaker Reed's decisions have become leading

In the face of all this the Democrati managers are actually bringing into West Virginia a man who furnished Speaker Reed with a precedent for tak ing the very course which has won him the title of "Czar" among Democrats-a man whose record as President of the New York State Senate is like that of Reed's in Congress. Now, what are our Demogratic friends

going to do about this? If Speaker Reed deserves all the contempt and hatred heaped upon him by Democratic politicians for exercising his right to determine a quorum for the transaction of the public business, what of Governor Hill, who is to be the chief attraction at the Democratic hippodrome here next Friday?

Unwilling Witnesses.

The protective tariff medicine is work ing. Read the cable dispatches to the New York Herald, to be found elsewhere in the INTELLIGENCER. Our British friends find that by reason of the new tariff the Canadian farmer loses the bes market for his products. It is plain that what the Canadian farmer loses in this country the American farmer gains. One of the largest silk concerns in the world, employing five thousand men, whose establishment is enclosed by a mile of wall, has sent representatives to this country to select a site for the erection of great sitk mills. Another witness of the efficacy of the new tariff. The goods which this Bradford firm has been making in England ic the American markets will be made in the United States. The men who make these goods in the United States will contribute to the support of the Government of the United States. They will consume the products of the farms of the United States. They will consume the manufactured products of the

The "Tariff Tax" on Newspapers.

The Philadelphia Times is much dis-tressed over the sad plight of the American consumer-all on account of the papers in the effort to fool the consumer new tariff law. The Times consumer as a consumer and induce him to cut his 2 50 "rises in the morning," which, we observe, is the custom of all "tariff taxed" to consumers, and after worrying through all the schedule, being careful to reduce a specific duties and compound duties to their ad valorem equivalent to make himself as §thoroughy miserable as possible, "he takes up the Times—printed on 20 per cent taxed paper, with 25 per cent taxed types, 30 per cent taxed ink and 50 per cent taxed machine," he reads about trusts—not any of the English trusts, only American trusts, some of which, by the way, as catalogued in the dwelf, it was, don't exist.

Well, let's see. To the unhappy man who reads in your columns how very unhappy he is, you give a rattling good newspaper (barring its political oning the consumers).

The Theory.

newspaper (barring its political opinions), the news of the world embellished with some of the best illustrations to be found in the daily press, a handsomely printed paper of eight pages, for which you charge him the enormous "tariff-taxed" price of-one cent!

Now, what the Intelligencer wants to know is, if printing paper, types, ink and printing machinery were on the free list-not a fraction of a cent of duty on an ounce of it, if you imported every pound of it-you don't import any of it-how much less would you charge your consumer for his Times! Would you give him change out of his cent?
In this view of the case, do you think the tariff on the articles you have mentioned "a tax on intelligence?" Isn't your argument rather a tax on the credulity of your consumer-if he swallows

The Atlanta Constitution is the leading Democratic paper of the South. There is no discount on its Democracy. On the 15th of last February it published the following from its Washington correspondent concerning John O. Pendleton, who was then occupying Mr. Atkinson's seat in Congress:

"Young Mr. Pendleton of West Virginia, ave-"Young Mr. Pendleton, of West Virginia, suc-ceded in absolutely killing bimself in the House

"YOUNG MR. PENDLETON.

"Young Mr. Fendleton, of West Virginis, succeeded in aboulterly killing himself in the house to-day."
"He will be turned out in a few days. He knows this, but it seems to be his determination to make friends with the Republicans in the hope of holding his seat a few weeks longer. Consequently hage the their for the minutes peaker's ruling, he had always done so in a gentlemanly manuer. He wished it understood that his constituours had voted for a gentleman. Heevidently said this to make friends with the Republicans. "They jeeringly applauded him, but there was silence on the Democratic side. Indeed, the Democrats left that the had intimated that every Democrat who had lenounced Reed was not a nim he proceeded to Join with the Republicans in their applause by ciapping his hands joyously as he resumed his west. He cannot be turned out too early to suit the Democrats. They are thoroughly disjusted with the fresh youth. The Republicans feel likewiss, and it is the unanimous verific that he takes the price as the freshest young man who has ever brokes into Courress. Fendleton's contestant, Atkinson, will be seated next week.
